POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Grinningly determined now where previously they had seemed all too casual, the Washington Senators took the field for the second game of the world series this afternoon with a new pitcher and new attitude, following yesterday's disappointing defeat by New York's so-called "Team of Destiny," the Giants.

The new attitude was brought about by the realization, somewhat tardy, that this was to be no care-free romp to the championship but a bitter, acrid encounter until the last man dies.

The new pitcher, Alvin Crowder, their star right-hander, was expected to do better against the Giants, even as Russell and Thomas, right-handers slightly bettered the behavior of the left-handed Walter Stewart yesterday.

Giants Confident.
As for the Giants, they were definitely committed to Hal Schumacher, exponent of the overhead sinker. The young man's record this year proclaimed him a ranking star; nevertheless, the Senators were favored at 4 to 5 for today's game, with the Giants at even money, the idea being that a team that could almost lose behind Carl Hubbell's matchless pitching in the first game might very well succeed in doing so in the second.

Senators Anxious.
The Senators, having been thoroughly put in their place yesterday, were allowed to come on the field today without the molestation of cheer or boo from the partisan crowd. Just a slight rustle and murmur, almost inaudible, signalled (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa saw this combination on a set of license plates near here the other day, "UR 2". Guess that is neat enough a retort for any un-called-for remarks by other motorists!

Today is the last day in which candidates at the recent primaries have to file expense accounts incurred during their campaigns. These are filed with the Court of Quarter Sessions. If the amount spent was in excess of $50, a detailed account of the expenses and disbursements must be filed.

DOCTORS REJECT ONLY ONE C. C. C. YOUTH AT BUTLER

Fifty-Four Lawrence Recruits Go To Camp; To Undergo Training

Fifty-four of the 55 Lawrence county Civilian Conservation corps applicants passed the preliminary medical examination of U. S. army doctors at Butler on Tuesday and today were probably at Fort Washington, Md., in readiness for the brief "toughening up" period which prepares recruits for six months of life in the forests.

The happy, cheering band of 54 left Butler for the army concentration camp along with delegations from other counties last night. They rode aboard a special train chartered by the government.

"We have a healthy bunch of boys here in Lawrence county," Robert L. Meermans, director of the C. C. C. mobilization work here, commented this morning. "When only one out of 55 is rejected, it counts for something."

Meermans led a delegation of recruits and citizens to the Butler county seat late Tuesday morning for the examination. Many of the cars were donated by local residents and concerns.

Among those who helped were the Pennsylvania Power company, The News company, Barnes-Snyder Motor company, Wilson Hall, executive director of the county relief board and others. Meermans drove his own car.

U. S. Embassy In Cuba Under Soldier Guard

Rumors Of Bomb Plots Against Embassy And Ambassador Welles, Causes Action

SOLDIERS ARE STAGING RAIDS

Notables In Cuba Hiding; Damage To Hotel $100,000; Will Be Repaired

By RICHARD ARMSTRONG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HAVANA, Oct. 4.—Rumors of a bomb plot against the American embassy today led Cuban authorities to double the soldier guard there.

The rumors followed a printed attack against United States Ambassador Sumner Welles in the student newspaper Alma Mater, charging him with responsibility with the fighting at the National hotel Monday, in which approximately 100 lives were lost.

Meanwhile, despite heavy rains in Havana accompanying the Matanzas hurricane, students pushed their campaign to disarm civilians.

A raid by soldiers on the home of former President Mario G. Menocal, who was reported in flight, gave rise to reports that more than 20 opposition leaders had been arrested. No prisoners could be found in police stations, however.

Notables Hiding
Colonel Carlos Mendieta, another rival of President Grau San Martin, also was reported hiding.

Will Taylor, manager of the National hotel, directed workers removing debris from the hotel grounds preparatory to reopening the building Saturday. New estimates placed the damage to the building at about $100,000.

Taylor said he proposed to leave the shell marks untouched as souvenirs.

The body of George Loetsche, American who was killed during the fighting, is being sent to London, Ohio, his home town.

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., film actor, was defendant today in a suit for $100,000 filed by Lucy Doraine, beautiful young Hungarian actress, in which she charges that Fairbanks caused her to be arrested and imprisoned falsely.

The suit resulted from a series of legal entanglements that led to the filing last March of a $50,000 "love balm" suit against the young actor by Jorgen Dietz, Miss Doraine's husband.

The three-day meeting is to be brought to a close tonight by Gov. James A. Logan of McKeesport.

Liquor Cargo On Hudson River Ship Is Seized

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The last days of prohibition were enlivened today with a million dollar liquor seizure aboard a deserted freighter in the Hudson river—as bizarre a drama as any enacted against the black backdrop of the 14 year dry era in America.

A mystery vessel in accordance with rum-running traditions, the freighter was taken over by customs authorities after its crew of 17 had scuttled for shore following a radio warning that came crackling over the air during the night.

Police in Haverstraw, N. Y., seized the 17 men on suspicion and held them as vagrants until the customs office in this city had a chance to investigate them. The crew seemed bewildered and some of them muttered that their captain had skippered out on them by train.

Johnson Denies He Will Resign

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Rumors that Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson would resign immediately as head of the NRA stood definitely spiked today by Johnson himself.

The recovery official was called here for a conference with President Roosevelt on NRA plans for a permanent organization, and afterwards scouted the rumor he was to resign now.

"I have no intention of staying in this job forever," he conceded. "I cannot afford it. But, I have no idea of resigning at this time. I have to do and I am going to do it. So long as this is the case, I will continue to do my work. That was the idea when I first took over this job."

"Right now, I am working harder than ever to put over the president's program, and I do not intend to stop this work at this time."

Several Hurt In Strike Clash At Ambridge

Pickets, Workers And Deputies In Clash This Morning

ONE OF WOUNDED SERIOUSLY SHOT

Miners Only Partially Obey Orders Of Officials To Return To Work

(International News Service)
WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA was locked fast in violence-spotted steel and soft-coal strikes this afternoon.

One man was shot and several others were beaten in a clash between pickets, workers and deputies at an Ambridge steel mill.

Efforts of union leaders to get the miners back into the pits were fruitless, except in scattered instances. It was estimated that not more than one-third of the strikers returned to the mines.

Westmoreland county provided a significant index to the miners' efficiency in tying up the field. Yesterday and last night, 3,000 miners went back to work.

Today, picket lines formed at the mine entrances and every mine that had reopened was closed.

Approximately 20,000 men had returned to work in Cambria and Somerset counties, and other scattered operations. The vast fields of Washington, Westmoreland, Fayette, Allegheny, Indiana and Jefferson counties were idle.

Outbreak At Ambridge
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—One man was shot and two others were wounded in a clash between pickets and workers at Ambridge while their leaders cried: "Gang those scabs—club 'em!"

More than two score women were in the picket lines and took part in the fighting.

Several shots were fired. Steel company deputies raced to the scene. Tear gas bombs were hurled into the advancing mob as the menaced workers fled.

Death Toll In Fire On Coast Undetermined

Coroner Of Los Angeles Believes Canyon Death Toll Will Reach Seventy Or Eighty

WORKERS TRAPPED IN BLAZING WOODS

Shifting Of Wind Causes Holocaust Of Serious Proportions Near Los Angeles

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—

Fiery death that rode a shifting wind into a treacherous canyon in Griffith Public Park today left in its wake a terrible toll of 36 known dead and more than 125 injured. Many seriously and several probably fatally.

Coroner Frank A. Nance said that reports given him today indicated the death toll "may reach as high as 70 or 80." He said that 36 had been accounted for definitely, and that 20 or 25 more bodies had been reported found in a small ravine near that in which the others perished.

Dead Are Removed
Under the glare of Hollywood flood lamps and fire truck lights stretcher parties moved as swiftly as possible to remove the dead. Many bodies were taken over the blackened hill and over a trail hastily pounded out by tractors to enable ambulances to approach closer.

Several hundred men were fighting the flames in a narrow box canyon when the wind shifted suddenly. The men were trapped in a rising inferno. Desperately they sought to escape. They ran, but the flames ran faster.

The fire was controlled at dusk and other crews of workmen were sent to search through the hot ashes for the bodies of the men.

St. G. McCullough, park foreman, said he believed that at least 58 men had been burned to death. T. J. Brennan, the supervisor of time keepers, placed the death list at 52.

Arthur Mometer

Each night when darkness veils the skies and folks should be asleep when quietness should rule the town with not a single cheep, we have a concert hours long, when we would sleep like logs, the music is the baying of some distant neighbors dogs. Sometimes they bark up at the moon and sometimes they just bark, and one would like to see them chased to some thick wooded park where they could bay and yelp and bark and let the neighbors snore, ah me, those pooches are a pest, the weather's sixty-four.

SEEK LARGE SUBSCRIPTIONS TO CHEST

Committee Is Now In Action

Will Give Coming Chest Campaign An Important Impetus

NEED OF LARGER GIFTS IS STRESSED

Preliminary solicitation of "big gifts" for the New Castle Community Chest of 1933 has already been commenced by members of the Chest's Big Gifts Committee which Thomas F. Morehead and A. C. Hoyt are heading as co-chairmen. Community Chest headquarters today announced.

Cards for the pre-drive campaign were distributed to the committee personnel at a recent meeting in the Hoyt home, East Washington avenue. At that time 20 of New Castle's prominent citizens agreed to call upon nearly 200 of the larger-giving prospects.

Need Large Subscriptions
General Chairman Fred L. Rentz, addressing the committee group, declared that the success or failure of the campaign would hinge greatly on the size of the larger subscriptions. He asked each campaigner to take as many cards as they possibly could, to see them quickly and to solicit subscriptions as large as possible.

Co-Chairman Morehead also impressed the group with the same thought that Mr. Rentz conveyed.

The committee was also told to impress upon the larger givers that in this campaign the donations are for eight agencies instead of one. They were also impressed by the fact that the subscriptions were payable over a period of 12 months something which was not the case last year. Subscriptions, payable in smaller installments, could be larger it was believed.

Agencies in the Chest organization, the committee was told, do not receive their money in one payment but rather in 12 monthly allocations.

Members of the Big Gifts Committee in attendance at the Hoyt meeting were Robert A. Eckles, W. W. Brahm, Dr. C. C. Green, Thos. H. Hartman, W. K. Huges, Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, B. H. Kantenberg, John Lamb, James K. Love, W. Keith McAfee, Joel S. McKee, W. F. Moody, Fred L. Rentz, Charles W. Read, James M. Smith Sr., Mrs. James M. Smith and Mr. Hoyt and Mr. Morehead.

no chance to escape; the flames ate greedily into the brush and small timber, and the steep slopes made escape impossible.

Burned and bleeding scores of men, blinded by fire and smoke, staggered to a promontory above the canyon, and collapsed in the dust, waiting for help.

Authorities established a hospital at the municipal golf course in the park, which is surrounded on three sides by thickly settled residential sections, and physicians and nurses sped there to give first aid.

All rescue apparatus in Los Angeles was rushed to the scene.

Great billows of smoke gave an ominous appearance over the park and when the horror of the disaster became known thousands rushed to park entrances and to hospitals. Hundreds of them were relatives of men who had been working in the park.

Horribly Burned

So horribly were the bodies of the victims burned no attempt was made to identify them last night. They were numbered in the morgue which was closed last night. The task of identifying the bodies was to start today, and officials said that teeth offered almost the sole hope of positive identification.

"The wind did it," said James Davies, a survivor. He escaped with his life by running into the wind instead of from it. "They didn't have a chance. They thought they could run ahead of the fire."

And the blackened bodies, knees and arms thrust out, shield their faces, gave mute evidence of how the county workmen had fallen in the holocaust.

Federal officials are proceeding with their plans to "mop up" the Urschel kidnapping case by bringing the Kellys to trial. United States District Attorney Herbert K. Hyde is confident that the list of convicted will be brought up to nine by a verdict of guilty in the case of the Kellys.

In the same jail with the Kellys are five of the seven convicted last Saturday. They are Harvey Bailey and Albert Bates, notorious desperadoes, and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shannon of Paradise, Texas, and their son, Armon Shannon. Mrs. Shannon is Kathryn Kelly's mother.

Today motions asking for an arrest of judgment and a new trial for the Shannons were expected to be filed. Similar motions were filed late yesterday in behalf of the two convicted St. Paul defendants, Edward Bernan and Clifford Skelly—who were found guilty of having helped pass some of the ransom money. Previously similar motions were filed in behalf of Bailey and Bates.

Currency Inflation Is Strongly Opposed

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. — The fierce pressure that has been directed at President Roosevelt for currency inflation has relaxed somewhat in the past week, but is expected to be renewed again as southern and western producers confront rising retail prices under the operation of the NRA codes.

Organized labor has taken its stand along with powerful financial interests against inflation. President William Green in his inaugural speech to the A. F. of L. convention declared labor would "stand unflinchingly against inflation." Labor is against inflation, he said, because under any inflationary system wages do not rise as fast as living costs.

For the moment, the anti-inflationists seem to have the upper hand with labor and "big capital" on their side. However, the battle will be renewed before long, certainly not later than the re-opening of congress and many observers believe it will be a bitter one.

President Roosevelt has been repeatedly urged in the past few weeks to make a declaration of what he plans to do with the dollar and the discretionary inflation powers given him by the last congress. Bankers and big industrialists have joined in privately urging him to announce a policy that will be reassuring to the business interests.

They have told him that uncertainty as to where the dollar will stand is a hindrance to business recovery, as business is chary of making commitments. Hundreds of letters have been received at the White House along this line in the past few weeks and these have been supplemented by personal appeals to Mr. Roosevelt.

Thus far, the president has declined to commit himself, although he has discussed the situation at length with his advisers. The belief is prevalent in Washington that up to now Mr. Roosevelt has been actually under a misapprehension, and that he will watch the further operation of the new recovery legislation before determining a course.

dropped their clubs and stones and withdrew.

Several Injured
Behind them they left Alton Curry, 30, an employee, writhing in agony in the street, his head battered in and his clothes spattered with blood.

Deputies dragged Curry to safety. He was rushed to the Valley Hospital at Ambridge where his condition was reported as critical.

Luke Starchenko, 37, a picket, was shot in the side. His condition was serious.

Harry Kuntz, 32, of Ambridge, a Spang employee, also was clubbed in the head. Elwood Rowley, 19, another employee, was less seriously hurt.

C. R. Barton, vice-president in charge of operations, disclaimed any responsibility for the volley of shots, shifting the blame to deputy sheriffs.

Protection of our property is in the hands of deputy sheriffs. Any shooting that was done was done by deputies. We have nothing to do with what the deputies do.

Believe Coal Strike Waning
The coal strike, which fostered the germ of the growing disturbances in the steel mills, gave every evidence today of nearing an end. Although 15,000 employees of captive mines in Fayette county derided their union leaders and refused to go back to the pits.

20,000 Back On Jobs
Miners in Jefferson and Indiana counties were holding fast to their holiday, while in adjacent Cambria and Somerset counties between 18,000 and 20,000 miners were reported back on the job.

E. T. Wagan, district president of the U. M. W. A., said several small crews entered isolated Allegheny county mines this morning, but there was not a general return of the idle workers. Wagan voiced the hope that the Allegheny county operations would resume within a few days.

Both Washington and Greene counties were reported still locked tightly in the strike's grip.

which was finally suppressed. He held the office of constable at the time of his death, which office he had held in the Mahoning township district in which Hillsville is located for the greater part of the time that he resided there.

Some years ago, he became the possessor of bloodhounds, which he used in his work in his own district and which were often in demand in other districts in hunting for elusive fugitives from justice.

A Democrat in politics, he always had an active and prominent part in the affairs of that party in the Lawrence county district. At one time he was the nominee of his party for the office of sheriff.

Mr. Edwards was born in Hubbard, O., on June 11, 1873 and was sixty years of age. He resided in Youngstown, where he followed contracting business, prior to locating in Hillsville about thirty years ago. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. Lodge at Bessemer and attended the Methodist Episcopal church at Hillsville.

He had been in poor health for the past two years, but his condition did not become serious until Sunday, when he suffered a stroke and had to be removed to the hospital.

Mr. Edwards is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lavern Tully Edwards, one daughter, Mrs. Howard Williams, of Youngstown, his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards of Hillsville, five sisters, Mrs. Edward Gunion, of Cleveland, Mrs. May E. Funeral services are to be held Friday, October 6, at 1:30 p. m., at the late residence in Hillsville. Interment will be made in Belmont cemetery, Youngstown.

SCUMACHER AND CROWDER TO HURL IN SECOND GAME

their appearance. They strode purposefully across the field from the club house and fell to tossing the ball about, as ball players will and do and apparently must.

Meantime, the Giants were taking that supposedly "dead" national League ball apart in batting practice. Jackson hit one to the exit gate, 485 feet away, and another into the upper stands in left. Terry hit the center field fence and O'Doul parked two in succession in the upper stands in right. In fact, a nice time was had by all.

The Senators also seemed to have familiarized themselves with the National League ball overnight, for Goslin, Manush and Myer, Sewell and Schulte drove it into the stands with ease and regularity. For their information, Rogers Hornsby, the National League referee now with the American League Browns, declared before the game that "that guy Hubbell will beat them every time he goes in there, which for purposes of this series is liable to be three times, all told."

Schumacher seemed a little nervous in the dressing room before he went out to warm up, but otherwise all was serene. Even Clark Griffith was around, exuding cheer and confidence, his story being that the Senators had the "jitters" yesterday but would find themselves today. He didn't add that, if they don't, nobody else will be able to find them. In fact, nobody will want to.

The Giants went out for fielding practice at one o'clock and began putting on a show with a lot of zeal and enthusiasm. At this hour the stands were sparsely at one and all like a polite, society yawn. It didn't seem possible that these vacancies would be taken up in the half hour remaining before the first ball was pitched. Therefore, a crowd of 40,000 or less was indicated.

First Inning.
Washington—Myer up; ball one, wide; strike one called; ball two, inside; ball three, wide; ball four, wide. Myer walked. Schumacher was nervous and showed it as his breaking curve flew wide of the mark in pitching to Myer.

Goslin up. Ball one, wide; ball two, high; strike one, called. It was a low sharp curve that caught the outside corner. Myer reached second as Goslin was out at first. Ryan to Terry. Goslin hit a slow grounder towards second base and Ryan came in fast to make the play.

Manush up. Ball one, wide. Ma-nush out on a fly to Davis. The Giants centre fielder camped under Manush's long drive and held Myer at second with a fast return to the infield.

Cronin up. Strike one, called; strike two, swung; strike three, swung.

Schumacher pitched his way out of a hole by feeding Cronin two successive sinkers at which the Washington leader swung vainly. The first broke across his bat and the second the outside corner.

New York—Moore up. Strike one, foul back; strike two, foul back; ball one, wide; foul back; foul, left; strike three, swung. Moore struck out with a foul tip that Sewell managed to hang on to.

Critz up. Critz out, Sewell unassisted. He bunted the first ball pitched right into Sewell's hands for an easy out.

Terry up. Ball one, wide. Terry out on a fly to Cronin. It was a foul claiming ball the manager caught in short left field. The Giants were not trying to wait Crowder.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Second Inning.
Washington—Schulte up. Ball one, low; ball two, inside; strike one, called. It was a sharp breaking ball that caught the inside corner. Strike two, foul, left. Schulte out, Schumacher to Terry. He hit a lit-guards; Hollis Burke and Tom Booher, buglers; and the firing squad was composed of Corporal Dicks and private G. T. Ward and C. W. Brown, of the troop.

Bluege up. Strike one, called; strike two, swung; ball one, wide; ball two, inside; ball three, outside; getting the first two strikes over, Schumacher lost control and walked Bluege on four straight balls.

Sewell up. Ball one, low. Sewell out on a fly to Moore. Sewell ended the inning with a looping fly which Moore camped under in left field. No runs, no hits, no errors, one left.

New York—Ott up. Ott got a great hand from the stands after his recognition of his great hitting in the first game. Ball one, wide; ball two, high; strike one, foul, back; while Ott was at bat an argument ensued as to whether he was stopping out of the box while Crowder pitched. Ball three, wide; ball four, wide. Ott walked.

Davis up. Strike one, foul, right. Ott took second on Davis' clean single to centre. It was the first hit of the game Davis lining a beauty over second base. He hit a high ball, outside.

Jackson up. Ott took third and Davis second on Jackson's sacrifice out. Bluege to Kuehl.

Mancuso up. Ball one, wide. Mancuso out, Bluege to Kuehl. The runners being held to their bases. After Jackson had laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt Mancuso was unable to come through.

Margaret E. Brenner Bride Of W. H. Zeigler At Church Wedding

One of the loveliest weddings of the early fall season took place at high noon today in the parlors of the Second United Presbyterian church, corner of County Line and Milton streets, when Miss Margaret Elizabeth Brenner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brenner of the Ellwood-New Castle road became the bride of Wesley H. Zeigler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zeigler, Rochester, Pa.

Guests filling the church to capacity including relatives and friends of both the bride and groom, were ushered to their places by the Messrs. Glen Chesney and William Brenner, the latter a brother of the bride.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Ethel Denniston, organist, and a member of the bride's Sabbath School class, played nuptial music. Strains of the Lohengrin wedding chorus rang through the air as the bride and groom entered the sanctuary.

The bride was attractive in a white satin gown fashioned on princess lines with the three-quarter length sleeve puffed from shoulder to elbow, and the skirt was of floor length. She wore an exquisite all over lace jacket and lace mits. Her head dress was a white satin turban with nose veil and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Glen Chesney, of Butler, sister of the bride, was chosen as matron of honor. She was attired in ashes-of-roses silk crepe made ankle length and very tailored and smart in lines. Her turban and lace mits were carried out in beige. Yellow roses made up her arm bouquet.

A close friend of the groom, Omar Zeigler of Rochester, served as best man.

The vows were pledged with Dr. C. K. McGeorge, pastor of the church officiating with the single ring ceremony. Following, and as the bridal party adjourned to the reception room at the rear of the church, the Mendelssohn wedding march was played.

A wedding dinner was served at the close of the reception in the church dining room with members of the bride's Sunday School class known as the P. B. N. group, serving.

Later in the day, Mr. and Mrs. Zeigler left on an Eastern motor trip and after October 10 will be at home to friends at 633 Fifth avenue, Bethlehem, Pa. For traveling, the bride selected a brown crepe tunic dress with accessories to match.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

LIVE NOW!

Trouble with a lot of us is, we don't live now. We live in the past or we live in the future, we live in every other time but the present and we're not as happy as we ought to be.

We think of the happy moments we have had and we sigh because the present isn't as delightful as the past. . . . We made a mistake long ago—failed miserably, humiliated ourselves greatly—and we let that unfortunate experience hinder the living that is ours today.

Or we spend our present opportunity in dreaming and planning for the future. . . . What we will do tomorrow. What we shall next year. That's what we think of and we are surprised when the future does not unfold as we hoped and becomes merely another inadequate present with another future blimmering brightly ahead.

Do I mean that we should never think pleasantly of the past nor ever allow its lesson to guide our present conduct? Do I mean we should give no thought for the future—that we should drift aimlessly in today, spineless creatures of every sudden urge and impulse—and let tomorrow take care of itself and us?

Not exactly. Not at all. But today is the living moment. Today is the shining reality. Today is the positive thing to be felt and seen and touched and enjoyed, suffered, endured. You make today rich, you fight today's battles strongly, and you build for yourself a stronger past to be remembered in the future. You live hardily, sturdily, adventurously today and you make your future just that much more solid. Too much remembering may be an anesthetic for today's wounds, a retreat from today's duties.

Think ahead too far and you stumble over today's problems and fall and fall. The future is but a light that dances ahead of you. It is not real until it becomes your present. And tomorrow can be no stronger than Yesterday and Today.

There is a sermon, but I am not preaching it only to you. I am preaching it to myself, as all men do when they raise their voices and tell other people what they should be doing how they should be living. I am warning myself not to sigh for the past nor to worry about the future. I am commanding ME to Live Now.

Because, though it is more pleasant to tell others than to do it yourself, it is, after all, just another way of wasting Today.

WHY NOT TRY SALESMANSHIP?

"I couldn't sell gold dollars for 45 cents."

Perhaps you have used this quotation when asked why you don't apply for work as a salesman.

You think you can't sell, and this conviction has prevented you from trying to get that sort of a job.

The person who can sell can make a job for himself.

But some of the most successful sales people in the country have found out their ability in salesman-ship, not from choice but from necessity.

They had to have work and so they tried as salesmen, and succeeded.

First you must know all about the article you propose to sell and be able to tell an interesting story about it.

You must think of reasons why a purchaser should need or want it.

You must think of arguments to offset the objections to it.

You must make up your mind to work hard and incessantly, and not to mind a succession of failures to sell.

And if you have the spirit of "swamp" you will manage to get your money in one way or another, and will sell goods and like it. Why don't you try it?

AT THE CLOSE

Not that I shall die rich or very great.

I'd rather when the journey ends Wear a few flowers, sent by friends,

Than have my coffin body lie in state.

I want no mounted guardsmen at my gate.

To drive away the poor man who attends.

For I shall need the humble prayer he sends.

That God have mercy as He scrolls my fate.

A few true tears are all the praise I'd ask.

From those who've known me best and understood.

Just to be missed from my accustomed task.

A little while will mark my labor good.

Just to be spoken of when old friends meet.

Will change to victory many a sad defeat.

Anyone who thinks that beer consumption will fall off as the summer wanes is wrong, statistics of the United States Brewers' Association indicate. In the old days August was a slow month for the beer barons, but this year business has increased. The country poured 1,441,727,168 8-ounce glasses of beer down its gullet in August, bringing the total since April 7 up almost to the six-billion mark, and it paid the Federal treasury over 71 millions in the process.

One drawback to the agricultural situation was that too many who put their hands to the plough dropped it to take hold of the steering wheel.

The most productive age, in the case of a President, seems to be the patronage.

It's hard to find an industry or profession which hasn't a code these days, so searching has the NRA regulation of conditions been. The latest code to receive attention is that for housewives. Among its provisions are clauses demanding that the husband help his wife with the dishes, that the wife should be allowed to sleep late at least two mornings a week, and that the wife should get 10 per cent of her husband's income. Comments on the code by prominent women were numerous. Amelia Earhart (Mrs. G. Putnam), thought that the wife should be allowed at least one day a week for flying, and Gracie Allen, of the Burns and Allen radio team, demanded not 10 but 90 per cent of her husband's salary. "To keep him out of trouble," she explained.

Two-Edged Relief Receives Approval As Auxiliary Force

Poverty And Surplus Of Products Create Demand For Remedy, And Country Discusses Question Of Adequacy, As $75,000,000 Is Provided

In viewing the decision of President Roosevelt to use $75,000,000 of relief funds for the purchase of food and clothing materials, to be distributed to needy families, the press approves of the principle involved, but in many instances raises the question of the adequacy of the grant. It is felt by many that the two-edged relief will tend to stimulate business, and is probably the best approach to the problem. Some would include coal purchases under the same enterprise.

This action, in the opinion of the CLEVELAND NEWS "will give renewed purchasing power to the producer, while the distribution of these products will provide timely aid for those in want." The NEWS calls it "probably the best plan that could be offered in the circumstances."

The CHARLOTTE OBSERVER sees it as a move in the "welfare of the people" and credits it with three probable results—"guarantee of a tremendous store of necessities, acquisition at reasonable prices, and relief of the market."

The PORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM indorses the idea that "food products will be turned into a little more waste than salvage as heretofore," while the LOWELL EVENING LEADER sees it as "better than anything in the nature of a dole, since, while relieving the needy, it also puts so much more money into circulation."

"There is nothing impracticable about the plan and the more quickly it gets into effect the better," says the CHICK ISLAND ARGUS, and the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS finds "nothing but commendation," pointing out that it "will supplement the admittedly inadequate relief now extended," that "every effort is to be made to avoid injurious disturbances of the normal channels of production and distribution."

THE DAILY NEWS describes it as "infinitely superior to the purchase of food for destruction." The NEWARK EVENING NEWS suggests that, as a result, "the way can be opened for the flow to those markets of products still piled up on the farm."

The JERSEY CITY JOURNAL offers the explanation that, "what is a surplus to the farmer may not be a surplus to the nation."

Part of the editorial opinion of the country is an argument that the distribution should contribute to the volume of work to be done by the people. The SALT LAKE DESERET NEWS advises that "the recipients should return if they are able bodied, the equivalent in work to the community," at the same time stating its concern over the distress of hungry children. The OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES agrees that "it will be vastly better for the nation and for the jobless if the assistance is given in pay for work done."

NORTHWESTERN concludes that "curtailing is not to be compared, as a cure or a means of relief from depression, with increase of consumption and purchasing." That paper also indorses the idea of including coal in the scheme. In the matter of coal, the SCRANTON TIMES suggests the possible increase in employment of miners, and the PORTLAND OREGON JOURNAL believes that the railroads would indorse the proposal.

Quoting the White House statement that it is "one of the most direct blows at the economic paradox which has choked farms with an abundance of products while many of the unemployed have gone hungry," the Washington Evening Star says: "Will it assume the importance of a blow? Will it represent anything more than a drop in the bucket? Will it show its effects either as hastening agricultural recovery or greatly mitigating the suffering of the unemployed?—Will $75,000,000 worth of food and clothing make much of a dent in the relief needs, when such needs are measured by the money now being spent to meet them?"

The query as to whether "such an addition to existing funds will really make much improvement," is offered by the NEW YORK SUN, with the contention that "the adequacy of relief for the needy depends not on Washington but on the States and cities" and the thought, "As farm relief this plan does not appear impressive. If the millions spent so far all over the land have not absorbed surplus crops, another gift of $21 to each needy family can hardly achieve that end."

"It is an economical, effective method of dispensing relief," advises the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS, while that paper is not impressed by the stabilization of markets proposed, suggesting that "the Federal Farm Board's experiment in price pegging by that means has not been forgotten." The BALTIMORE EVENING SUN argues that "mere distribution by the government cannot by itself solve the problem."

The SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) UNION calls the government plan one that "offers some slight measure of solution to the problem of surpluses," and in its other phase "a humanitarian act imposed by necessity." The Union, however, questions its adequacy.

It is hoped by the PASADENA STAR-NEWS that "the old morale will be restored among the unemployed, once conditions become such (Continued On Page Seven)

A kind-hearted English vicar one day observed an old woman laboriously pushing a perambulator up a steep hill. He volunteered his assistance, and when they reached the top of the hill said, in answer to her thanks:

"Oh, it's nothing at all. I'm delighted to do it. But as a little reward, may I kiss the baby?"

"Baby? Oh, bless you, sir," she returned. "It ain't no baby, it's the old man's beer."

"TO THE VICTOR"

THE dismissal of Postmaster Lake S. McNab by Postmaster General James A. Farley is causing considerable surprise and no little disappointment to the citizens of New Castle. It had been thought that Mr. McNab would be shown the same courtesy under a Democratic administration as was shown Democratic postmasters under a Republican administration. His summary dismissal is a very tangible application of the old Jacksonian theory "to the victor belongs the spoils."

The reasons assigned for the dismissal are "irregularities." A scrutiny of the charges shows most of them to be minor, pettifogging excuses, apparently built up to justify a piece of political guillotining. The real reason for MacNab's dismissal is not listed—he is a Republican.

In the light of President Roosevelt's call to American citizens to stand by the administration and to lend a hand in the present governmental experiment, dismissals such as MacNab's create scant enthusiasm. If Mr. MacNab had been a political sycophant dependent upon the whim of party leaders for his existence, such a dismissal might bear scrutiny. He is nothing of the sort, for his own life and the lives of his ancestors in this county have been of such a character that makes for decency and respectability.

Moreover, dismissals such as this make a mockery of the civil service law. Custodians have already been taken out of the civil service class and made political plums. By evasion and political expediency the postmasters of first class districts are now undergoing the same treatment. Who knows but what the next step will be to abolish civil service in its entirety?

As a piece of political maneuvering the dismissal of Mr. MacNab stands as a colossal blunder. His successor, whoever he will be, deserves the support of the citizens in his conduct of the office, but nothing can possibly remove the stigma of the political removal of Mr. MacNab.

In short, Lake S. MacNab was politically "put on the spot."

Compile Report On Britains Ability To Pay Debt To U. S.

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—A special report on Great Britain's capacity to pay its debt to this country is being compiled by treasury and state department experts in preparation for the opening of debt conversations with British financial experts at the end of this week.

It is hoped to have this report completed by Thursday, when Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, chief financial adviser to his majesty's government, is due to launch Britain's effort for drastic reduction of its $4,000,000,000 debt to the United States.

The report is being prepared for the use of under secretary of the treasury Dean Acheson and Dr. Frederick Livesay, assistant economic adviser to the state department. Acheson will have charge of the debt conversations on behalf of this government and will be assisted by Livesay.

The purpose of the report is to enable Acheson and Livesay to answer arguments the British may put forward concerning Britain's incapacity to continue existing debt payments. It will cover the extent to which the British are now being taxed and whether they can stand any further tax burden. It also will cover Britain's foreign trade and general financial position.

With regard to the tax situation, officials here fully expect the British to argue it is impossible for Britain to attempt to finance continued debt payments through increased taxation. The British are expected to point out that any substantial increase in taxes at the present time would tend to diminish rather than increase revenues. Britain's incapacity to pay on this basis, or any other basis, is not conceded by this government.

There was a growing belief in well-informed circles that the British may suggest the flotation of a bond issue in this country to finance a final lump sum settlement of the total British debt, although the idea of Britain borrowing from the American tax-payer in order to pay him back with his own money was admitted to be ironical, some officials here believed the flotation of a British bond issue for that purpose might have a fair chance of success.

"When I decided to try Resinol Soap and Ointment, my complexion was a sight from pimples and blackheads. I had a horrid, muddy looking skin and when I used powder it looked even worse. After three days use of the Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, I could see an improvement. Now all my friends tell me how well my skin looks." (Signed)—Mrs. M. N. S.

Quarrel Is Cause Of Shooting Here

Winfield Lewis Is In Local Hospital With Five Bullets In Both Legs

MAX JAUDUS IS IN BEAVER COUNTY JAIL

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—Winfield Lewis, aged 37, of 749 First avenue, this city, is in the Ellwood City hospital today with five bullet wounds in his legs as a result of a quarrel with Max Jaudus of Fom- bell, Pa., late last night.

Three bullets remain to be taken out as yet.

Max Jaudus, who was charged with firing the shots, is in the Beaver county jail.

The shooting victim was found unconscious about 10:45 last night by John and William Crea of Todd avenue, this city, along the Ellwood-Zellenople road in a pool of blood. The body was near a side road leading to Fombell. It was placed in the car of the Crea brothers and rushed to the local hospital, where his injuries were treated and found to be not serious. He is resting comfortably today.

As soon as Lewis was brought to the local hospital the local police station was informed of the affair, who in turn notified Beaver county authorities. Beaver County Detective Robert Brannon, Private Muncy of the state police of New Brighton and Constable Scott Paxton came to the scene immediately. Upon information of Lewis at the hospital Jaudus was taken into custody and placed under arrest.

When questioned by the authorities at the local police station Jaudus did not deny the shooting and admitted that it was the result of a quarrel, the nature of which he refused to reveal at that time. He stated that he would have to be looking out for himself now and would not talk until advised to do so.

A Smith-Weston 32-caliber revolver was used in the argument. The Crea brothers stated that they

One Sure Way To End Coughs and Colds

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, and attacks the seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, bronchitis, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Your own druggist is authorized to refund your money on the spot if your cough or cold is not relieved by Creomulsion. (adv.)

To Enforce Speed Limit At Ellport

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—Beginning today, the 20-mile speed limit will be enforced in the borough of Ellport, in accordance with plans made by members of the borough council when they convened in the basement of the Magyar Presbyterian church last evening at their regular meeting. Keeping in line with the school board, the council members were in favor of the ruling that the five per cent penalty added to all unpaid borough taxes after the first of October will be abated for a period of 60 days or until December 1. Taxes may be paid in installments of any amount convenient to the payer.

The roads and streets of the borough will all be improved and graded before the winter months. This work will be done by residents of the borough, and each property owner, if they so desire, will be permitted to work one day with the remuneration to be deducted from their borough tax. Laborers will be paid 40 cents per hour and will work eight hours per day.

New Castle Citizens Show Unselfishness

Praising New Castle's Community Chest as "a community activity that represents the essence of unselfishness," John H. Lamb, bank president here, today declared that "it is a most wholesome thing for men and women in New Castle to turn their attention for a period of a week or 10 days each year to doing something for others."

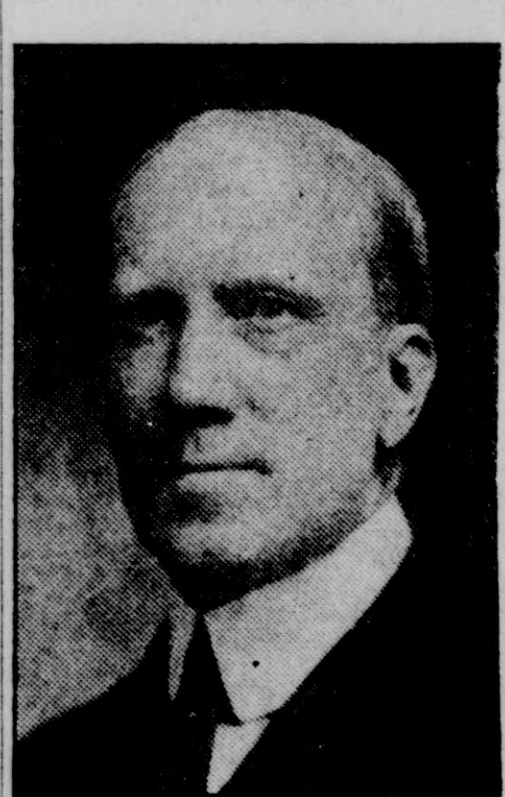

"The magnificent manner in which actually hundreds—1,000 told there'll be 1,000 workers this year—of men and women of the city sacrifice really important personal matters to find time to perform the tasks involved in an annual Community Chest campaign, proves very clearly that these citizens are anything but selfish," Mr. Lamb, head of the Citizens' National Bank, commented.

"Their willingness," continued Mr. Lamb, "to lay aside business and social duties and to give time and money for the Community Chest shows that they give a very definite, conscientious place in their life's program to these finer things."

Recalling that an important change has come about in the scope of the Chest drive since the beginning of the business and financial depression, Mr. Lamb stated that up until 1929 the Chest raised money annually for the deficits incurred in the operation of the various constituent agencies, and that was all for which money was asked. But when unemployment and resultant need spread despair and dependency through New Castle in 1931 and 1932 the Chest organization was used as a vehicle to raise money for relief, and last year in particular there was much more emphasis given to the necessity of feeding the hungry than there was to providing the deficits for the established agencies.

"This fall," it was pointed out by the bank head, "all relief has been taken over by state and federal agencies, and the Community Chest is back to where it was four years ago and where it always should be, primarily a movement aiming solely to make up annual deficits of medical, social and welfare agencies. And Mr. Lamb, realizing, of course, that men and women everywhere are more readily touched by appeals for those who are hungry, reminded once again, in conclusion, that it is just as essential that New Castle's established agencies be maintained to look after the poor and sick and injured, the unfortunate children, and to mold character into growing girls and boys.

PRESIDENT SEEKS TO RELEASE FOUR BILLIONS

Pushes Work On Banking Plans

Seeks To Release Large Sums In Closed Banks Of Nation

WILL MAKE ADDRESS IN NEW YORK TONIGHT

Watches Situation In Cuba; Drafts Plans For Permanent NRA Setup

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—President Roosevelt today moved to complete his banking program to release about four billions tied up in closed banks, drafted formal charts for a permanent NRA setup, and prepared a speech which he will deliver here tonight before the National Catholic charities.

At the same time the executive kept a close watch on every development in the island republic of Cuba. He was constantly in touch with the state department in Washington, and although he announced this nation's policy of non-intervention remained unchanged, checked carefully every move made there.

Mr. Roosevelt called before him Secretary of the Treasury Woodin, governor of the New York Federal Reserve Bank George L. Harrison, and Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson. Resulting from these conferences came advice that the banking plan was to get underway with all possible speed, and that, with Johnson, the president planned to build up a permanent organization for administration of NRA codes as fast as possible.

To Discuss Conditions
Mr. Roosevelt was expected to bring these matters to the attention of his audience tonight. The president was especially concerned over labor troubles which have developed in Western Pennsylvania's so-called "captive," or steel company-owned mines, within the past twenty-four hours. He may explain tonight just through administration of the codes of fair competition drafted under the NRA.

The Pennsylvania trouble supplied the most obvious and vivid example of the difficulties to be expected in administration of codes. A renewal of the recent strike in that sector was threatened over the agreement which steel company mine owners recently signed at the instance of the President and Johnson.

Post Office Work Advancement Shown

Federal Engineer's Report Says Job Is 15 Percent Behind Normal

New Castle's new post office was 39.5 percent completed on October 1, a fraction more than 15 percent behind the normal progress percentage of 55 percent. Federal Construction Engineer Miles E. Myers, government representative here, reported to Washington this week. Myers submits progress reports monthly.

Stone shipments from Curwensville, Clearfield county, Myers' report explained, were responsible for much of the delay in progress. On September 1 the job was 34.3 percent finished.

The federal engineer reported that work amounting to $82,708.95 of the contract price of nearly $209,000 has been done.

Federal Aid Plans Being Worked Out

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 4.—Uncle Sam will help feed, clothe and keep warm the needy of Lawrence county this winter. This assurance was given within federal relief circles today.

As yet definite plans for carrying out the $330,000,000 federal relief program this winter have not yet been promulgated. They are being framed as rapidly as possible and details are expected within the next few days. Federal officials are determined, however, that the distribution of food, clothing and coal shall be universal and shall reach all those in distress.

Told that in Lawrence county few details had as yet been reported as to how the cured pork for those in need would be distributed, relief spokesmen gave assurances the distribution of the meat would be carried out upon a fair basis. The pork has been turned over to the state relief commission. Washington officials, however, expect to keep tab on the distribution through various sources, and they are determined that the apportionment of the food shall be fair and equitable.

In the same manner, New Castle and Lawrence County needy shall receive their fair portions of clothing, coal and food to be distributed this winter if the plans of the federal relief administration are consummated.

CURFEW TO RING AT YOUNGSTOWN

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 4.—The bull-throated whistle that warned youngsters of other years that it was time to go to bed is to go back on the same job for children of today. The whistle was on the old water-works plant for many years, but has been silent for over a year since the water system was changed.

A week or so ago, at Police Chief Leroy Goodwin's request, the curfew whistle was restored. A mill whistle, at the Republic Steel plant was used, but its voice was weak and unsatisfactory. So the old whistle is going to the Republic.

Concerted Drive Against Shorts Sends Stocks Rac-

Three Points

UTILITY STOCKS
AID IN UPTURN

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The stock market turned into a bullish affair today as a concerted drive against the shorts sent stocks up from fractions to more than three points.

The upturn was shared in by virtually every group in the list and for the first time in weeks the upward trend was accompanied by volume. Trading in the first hour was at a pace fast enough to throw the ticker behind the market.

Commodity markets also aided the upturn as wheat gained nearly a cent a bushel and cotton more than 50 cents a bale.

Railroad shares which had been the outstanding targets for liquidation and short selling in previous sessions enjoyed a sharp rebound with New York Central, Union Pacific, and Atchafalpa in the van of the upturn.

The utilities were another group which enjoyed a good spurt as the sleeping short interest rushed to cover lifting Consolidated Gas, United Corp. Public Service of New Jersey and Stone & Webster moderate-ly.

Celanese, Chrysler, Allied Chemical, and Johns-Manville were the outstanding features in the more volatile trading favorites. Chrysler was accorded good sponsorship and shot ahead more than two points on tremendous volume. Celanese gave a similar performance.

United States Steel gave a better account of itself today than it had in days as it rose above 47, the best levels in days. Bethlehem, Republic and American Rolling Mill gained in sympathy.

The motor shares turned firm and higher on the strength in Chrysler with General Motors up more than a point. Liquor and gold mining shares were strong.

New Castle Dry Goods Company Is Observing Twenty-Eighth Birthday

Twenty-eight years ago a store, destined to become the largest and most complete mercantile establishment of its kind in New Castle and Lawrence county, was born on East Washington street.

This is the Twenty-Eighth Anniversary of the New Castle Dry Goods Company. It was at this time in the fall of 1905 that the New Castle Dry Goods came into existence and was given, at the hands of a group of competent and far-seeing business men, a firm start into the world of business. It gained momentum every year, until it developed into the huge and busy organization it is today.

After six or seven years in the building now occupied by the Sportings Good Store, and which it shared with C. Ed. Smith's hardware store, the New Castle Dry Goods owners bought the property bounded by the Neshannock river, East Washington street and Croton avenue, and built the large three story building it occupies at the present time.

Erect Huge Building
In erecting this building the company owners showed keen foresight. They knew that such a building, large as it was, would not be too large for an establishment such as they had created. They were right. At first only the main floor of the building was used by the New Castle Dry Goods; the rest was rented as offices to professional and business men. It was only a few years until the second floor was taken over:

soon the third floor was needed. Today there is not an inch of space to spare.

Although one entire side faces the Neshannock river bank, the foundation of the New Castle Dry Goods building was built just as substantially as the foundation of the business itself. The western side of the foundation is imbedded firmly into the floor of the river itself. The building's basement has been used as a store room ever since it was built and never once has the stock been touched by water, even when the river is at flood stage.

Thousands Of Lights
Three thousand lights illuminate the interior of the building, while several thousand more bulbs are studded row after row over the entire exterior walls. The outside lighting, a novel arrangement, has excited comment and commendation for years.

With its high white walls, its bulb beaded ceiling and high white pillars, the main floor of the building presents an impressive appearance. Every comfort and convenience are offered to the patrons. Prominent among these, and an arrangement appreciated and used by many thousands of people, is the comfortable lounging room on the balcony, overlooking the main floor. There can be found honey divans, chairs, tables, and a huge log fireplace of fancy stone. Magazines and newspapers are there for the use of those people resting from their day's shopping or those in wait for friends. Restrooms are near by. A section of the second floor is used regularly by the Well Baby Clinic conducted by the state and county.

On the third floor are club rooms for the women employees of the company. Their leisure time may be spent there in rest and recreation. A kitchenette adjoins, and is used by some of their employees in preparing their noon day lunches.

Over One Hundred Employed
On that day in 1905 when the New Castle Dry Goods Store was started, it employed less than a half dozen sales people. Today the employees number well over 100.

It buys new stock continually and gets its directly after release from the largest wholesale dealers of the world. Truck deliveries to the store patrons are made twice daily.

It is with pride and satisfaction that the New Castle Dry Goods comes to its 28th milestone. It can look back on the materialization of a splendid ideal, years of faithful service to the community of which it is an integral part. It can look forward to repeating the services rendered in the past, to an even greater contribution to a growing and busy city and county, to more and more birthday anniversaries when it can reminisce on "a job well done."

Auto Mortality Rate Decreases

State Rate Lower Than For Nation As Whole In Past Year

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 4.—Pennsylvania's automobile mortality rate fell off decidedly last year and was lower than the rate for the country as a whole, the Bureau of the Census reports.

Deaths from automobile crashes in the Keystone State numbered 2161 in 1932. This was an average of 22.2 deaths per 100,000 population. The mortality rate in 1931, on the other hand, had been 26.2 deaths per 100,000 residents, and in 1930 had been 27.1. The Pennsylvania rate of 22.2 for 1932 was lower than the rate of 23.6 recorded for the nation as a unit.

Of the 2161 automobile deaths in the Keystone State last year, 56 were caused by crashes between trains and automobiles. Collisions between automobiles and street cars resulted in 32 deaths.

In 1932 Ohio had a motor vehicle mortality rate of 23.8 deaths per 100,000 population as against Pennsylvania's rate of only 22.2. West Virginia was credited with the low rate of 19.4, and New York had a rate of 23.2.

Moonlight Ride Is Enjoyed Last Night

Twenty-Four Troop F Horses Carry Riders—Wiener Roast At "Last Round-up"

Every person to his own taste. Some take salt on their artichokes. Twenty-four men and women of New Castle last night chose a canter over moon-drenched roads and bridle paths to the tune of pounding shoes and squeaking leather.

It was the first moonlight horseback ride of the autumn for civilian enthusiasts of the stirrup. Troop F officers and their wives: it was a great success.

Leaving the stable grounds shortly before eight o'clock, a ride of about two hours was enjoyed.

The "last round up" took place around a blazing bonfire on the Troop F grounds, where the hungry riders got away with many little hot doggies. These were served with the necessary appurtenances, coffee, buns, plenty of mustard, catsup and marshmallows.

Thus brought to a close a perfect night's outing for the crowd. Credit for the success of which can be equally shared by the officers and men of the 103rd Cavalry and that old chap, the Weather Man, who is very likeable (every once in awhile).

The Governor Says

What Is Going On In Harrisburg—And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

The voters of Pennsylvania will pass upon a constitutional amendment authorizing the borrowing of $25,000,000 at the general election in November.

I urge every Pennsylvania voter to vote "yes" on this amendment. If the amendment were defeated it would mean that new taxes would have to be imposed immediately and it would mean new taxes that would raise $25,000,000 very quickly.

Because the money could not possibly be raised quickly enough, defeat of the amendment would also mean that unemployment relief might have to be stopped in December or January. And that would lead to every sort of trouble.

Moreover, defeat of the amendment would be a terrible blow to the state-aided hospitals in Pennsylvania. The legislature voted seven and one-half million dollars to the 162 state-aided hospitals, but because of the situation of the state's treasury about two and one-fourth millions of this sum cannot be paid except from proceeds of the bond issue for which this amendment provides.

That means that if this amendment is not passed many of our private hospitals will have to close up, or raise the money to keep open themselves.

Moreover, the appropriations to the University of Pennsylvania, University of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania state college, Temple university, Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania, Jefferson Medical college and Hahnemann Medical college all are dependent upon this amendment. In their interest it must be passed.

When I said that if it were defeated unemployment relief might stop in December, I meant just that. The federal government has been insisting that it will not help states that will not carry their own share of the burden. So the flow of federal money into Pennsylvania for unemployment relief would end automatically when the state stopped helping to carry the relief load.

Every loyal citizen who is interested in any state-aided hospital, in any of the colleges or universities mentioned above, or in help for the unemployed and their families should vote "yes" on the proposal to permit the state to borrow this $25,000,000.

If the majority should vote "no," our unemployed would be in a terrible predicament; our state-aided hospitals would be unable to give aid to the sick, and our higher institutions of learning would be in most serious trouble.

Remember to vote for amendment No. 8 and avoid the new taxes you will have to pay if it should be defeated.

JUNKETS SCARCE FOR CONGRESSMEN

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, D. C.—Congressional junkets are scarce this year. Ordinarily adjournment of Congress signals a dispersal of jovial Senatorial groups, and sky-larking representatives on official business involving interesting travel.

In a period of unprecedented economies with veterans watching every penny out of the Governmental till, after being docked of their own compensation with Federal employees reduced to a minimum, and every tax item watched by the public junkets are not popular advertising.

Correct This Sentence: "Money is trash," said the Frenchman, "and nothing matters but honor."
